Arya and the Injured Puppy

While walking home from school, Arya saw a small puppy limping near the bus stop.The puppy looked scared and had a small cut on its paw.

Arya felt sad and knew she couldn't leave it there alone.She gently approached the puppy and spoke in a calm voice. Then she called her mum, who brought a towel and a box to carry the puppy safely.

They took it to the nearby animal clinic, where the vet cleaned the wound. Arya waited patiently while the puppy was treated.

The vet thanked Arya for her kindness and said the puppy would be fine. Arya felt proud and happy that she had helped.

She decided to visit the clinic every week to play with the animals and help care for them.
